GARFIELD'S CHINESE RECORD.

There is no room for doubt as to what General Garfield's position on the Chinese question is. His outspoken opinions are in strong contrast to the unbroken silence which General Hancock has preserved on this important topic.

In 1878 General Garfield visited the Pacific coast and spent some time in San Francisco. He went through Chinatown and witnessed its horrors. He has ever since looked with disfavor upon Chinese immigration. The following paragraph, taken from the report of an interview with General Garfield published in the Wheeling (West Virginia) Intelligencer, puts him squarely on record as a determined opponent of Chinese competition with American labor:

"Look at the plague spots in San Francisco to-day. Nobody lives in them but the Chinese; nobody else can live in them. I have seen in a space no greater than the length and height of this sleeping car berth, in a Chinese tenement quarter in San Francisco, the home of twelve Chinamen. In that space they actually lived; yes, actually lived most of their time. There they crouched (all doubled up), and there they cooked, ate, slept, and, in a word, lived. They cooked with a little lamp a mess of stuff that they import from China, which, like their rice food, is very cheap, and a mere pittance in the way of earnings on the street will supply them food and clothes for an indefinite time. A few cents per day is more to them than a dollar to the commonest American laborer. Hence the lowest grade of poor paid labor retires before them as it would before a pestilence."

Remember this was said in '78, before Garfield's name had ever been mentioned for the Presidency. If the above is not sufficiently convincing, here is more from the same interview:

"This is not all. They have no assimilation whatever to Caucasian civilization. The negro assimilates with the Caucasian. He wants all that we want. He adopts our civilization—professes our religion—works for our wages, and is a customer for everything that civilization produces. Hence (using a figure of physiology) we can take him up in the circulation of the body politic and assimilate him—make a man and a brother of him, as the phrase goes; but not so in the least degree with the Chinaman."

These are strong arguments—just as good as Horace Davis ever used in Congress.

When the Willis bill to restrict Chinese immigration was passed in the House January 28, 1879, a press telegram to the Pacific coast contained the following words:

"No amendments were allowed. Garfield desired to abrogate the Burlingame treaty in this act after July 1st."

Garfield did not vote for the bill for the reason given in the following extract from the Congressional Record of January 28, 1879.

Mr. Garfield—I ask the unanimous consent, Mr. Speaker, to offer an amendment that this bill shall not take effect until due notice has been given to China, according to the usages of international law, of the termination of the treaty of which it is a palpable violation.

This extract clearly shows Garfield's sympathy with the bill, as it does also his respect for the honor of this Nation. He could not vote for the bill but he would not vote against it. He has ever since preserved the same attitude on this question. His view is broad and statesmanlike. He wishes to keep out the Chinese and at the same time preserve the good faith of this nation with a foreign power.

Finally, what can be plainer than this passage from Garfield's letter of acceptance:

"We cannot consent to allow any form of servile labor to be introduced among us under the name of immigration."

FALSE STATEMENTS.

Two Democratic speakers, addressing the people of Reno within the past seven days, each uttered the same untruth about General Garfield. There is no excuse for any misstatement in the matter, for they were speaking about a matter of public record.

The names of these two Democratic speakers are Col. Flournoy and Hon. George W. Cassidy.

Both told their hearers that the Poland Committee reported that General Garfield received ten shares of Credit Mobilier stock.

The Poland Committee did not so report. They did not find that General Garfield ever had any Credit Mobilier stock. Oakes Ames never testified that General Garfield received a share of it. These are facts which any one can verify by turning to the report of the Poland Committee.

We do not think Messrs. Flournoy and Cassidy intended to deceive their hearers; that they lied about Garfield. They were probably speaking carelessly, from an imperfect knowledge of the facts. Nevertheless, their error is inexcusable. Public speakers who affect to instruct the multitude should be correctly informed. They should be especially careful when they attack the character of a valiant soldier and a faithful public servant like James A. Garfield.

The worst effect of the exposure of so gross a misstatement is that it naturally destroys the confidence of the people in the speaker's good faith. They are apt to think that if he misstates the facts in one instance he may have done so in all.

Democratic speakers should not rob General Garfield both of his good name and of his means of defence. The best refutation of the lobbyist Oakes Ames' charge that General Garfield agreed to take stock in the Credit Mobilier is that the General never took any. It is nonsense to suppose that if General Garfield were corrupt as charged, he would allow dividends to the amount of several thousand dollars on his stock to accrue in the hands of Oakes Ames for four years, and never call for more than $329.

THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

What a sad disappointment to the Democratic party those Cincinnati nominations have proved. Hancock and English. What a combination!

Look at Hancock. A good, fat man, but what beefy brains! See him breaking loose from his advisers and sending off to Plaiasted that dispatch of congratulation over the Maine election. Actually rejoicing over a "glorious victory" of the Greenbackers!

That was a nice dispatch for hard money Democrats to read, wasn't it? But Hancock's worst escapade was that announcement of his on the tariff question. He talked very freely on that topic to a reporter of a Democratic paper, and after the interview was published endorsed its accuracy. This is a portion of what Hancock said:

"The tariff question is a local question. The same question was brought up once in my native place in Pennsylvania. It is a matter that the general government seldom cares to interfere with, and nothing is likely ever to be done to interfere with the industries of the country."

What an ass that man must be! Who can treat such ridiculous utterances with respect? They prove the political imbecility of the Democratic candidate for the Presidency.

Look at English. A pro-slavery man, a copperhead, a usurer, grinding the noses of poor men, swindling his grandmother, sending to the Central Committee long telegrams marked "Collect," giving nothing, hugging his money bags and his mortgages! How sick they all are of him! Leading papers of the Democratic party, such as the Sun, refer to him as a "skin-flint" and a "miser."

But wait till after election, and then see how the Democrats will howl over the nomination of Hancock and English!

A BLACK RECORD.

The Democratic party is unworthy the support of any honest man. Its record on money matters is rotten. It is a party of repudiation and of fraudulent money. The Democratic party has no respect for the National honor. It has opposed the just payment of the Nation's debt. The Democrats in Congress in 1863 tried to cripple the Government in its hour of trial by voting against making the greenback a legal tender. They have ever since voted against every act to strengthen the Nation or to redeem the National obligation. Below we give the damnable financial record of the Democratic party in Congress:

UNDIGNIFIED JOURNALISM.

Some of the Democratic newspaper are setting a very bad example to the people whom they profess to lead and represent. There is the very best of evidence that the Morey letter is a disgraceful forgery, and yet there are papers that profess not to have heard its authenticity disputed. However, we had just as conclusive proof that the Credit Mobilier and DeGolyer charges were unfounded long ago and yet the party has made them their entire stock in trade. We can reasonably conclude therefore that the party has chosen the only line of argument it consistently can, and that it will be elected by misrepresentation, forgery and perjury, or be defeated. We commend the example of a number of Republican papers. A careful examination of the records convinced us that the Fowler interview with Grant misrepresented Hancock, doubtless unintentionally, and without a moment's hesitation we said so.

THE MOREY LETTER.

The following is a copy of the forged letter which is figuring so prominently in the campaign;

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
Washington, D.C., Jan. 23, 1880.
(Personal and confidential.)

DEAR SIR: Yours in relation to the Chinese problem came duly to hand. I take it that the question of employees is only a question of private and corporate economy, and individuals or companies have the right to buy labor where they can get it the cheapest. We have a treaty with the Chinese government which should be religiously kept until its provisions are abrogated by the general government, and I am not prepared to say that it should be abrogated until our great manufacturing interests are conserved in the matter of labor.

Very truly, yours,
J. A. GARFIELD.

To H. L. Morey, Employers' Union, Lynn, Mass.

The letter first appeared in the Truth, an obscure New York paper, Oct. 23, 1880. General Garfield at once denounced it as a forgery. The Republican National Committee instituted inquiries and ascertained that no such concern as the Employers' Union ever existed, and that no such person as H. L. Morey was known in Lynn, Mass.

Regardless of General Garfield's assertion that the letter was a forgery and of the statements made by leading merchants of Lynn that H. L. Morey was a name unknown to them, the Democratic managers spread fac-simile copies of the Morey letter all over the country, and the Democratic newspapers parade it in large type in their columns and make the utmost use of it for campaign purposes.

General Garfield's denial of the authorship of the letter is supported by the following facts:

The handwriting of the letter is unlike the handwriting of General Garfield. No respectable authority has yet been produced for the existence at any time in Lynn of H. L. Morey or the Employers' Union. The postal canceling stamp on the envelope produced as the one in which the Morey letter was transmitted was not in use in January, 1880, and said envelope, while presented as a fac-simile, also fails to bear another stamp which was then in use at Lynn, notifying parties to furnish their exact address for the benefit of letter carriers. Experts testify also that the handwriting of the letter is not Garfield's. The signature is misspelled, thus: "Gaifield," no doubt to enable the forger to escape punishment through a legal technicality. Philip, an editorial writer of Truth, who has been arrested and is now on trial in New York, is known to be an expert imitator of Garfield's handwriting. The Sun, a rabid Democratic paper which has been foremost in throwing mud at Garfield, regards the letter as a forgery and denounces its use for campaign purposes.

Finally the letter itself is in opposition to any views ever expressed by Garfield on the subject of labor. His sympathy with the laboring classes is well known. He has always been a friend to the poor man. What else could he be, springing from the ranks of the people, a canal-boatman and a wood-chopper in his youth?

How despicable is this desperate resort by the Democrats to forgery to further their ends. The party which has taken advantage of such a crime must be made to suffer. This Morey letter forgery should gain many votes for the Republicans next Tuesday.

HE WANTED NO CHANGE.

Uncle Sam, who has been off fishing, returns, and calls up his bookkeeper.

Uncle Sam—Well, how do things go?
Bookkeeper—The books look splendid.

U. S.—Balance of trade all right?
B.—Millions of foreign gold pour in every week.

U. S.—Paying off the debt, eh?
B.—Yes, at the rate of ten or twelve millions a month.

U. S.—National credit good?
B.—Gilt-edged. You can borrow all you want at 3½ per cent.

U. S.—People employed generally?
B.—Factories can hardly fill their orders this fall.

U. S.—The currency is solid, I suppose?
B.—Every dollar is as good as gold.

U. S.—Agriculture growing up with the country?
B. (smiling)—Well, rather; you should see the mountains of produce going abroad. The farmers can hardly find anything to get up a good-natured grumble about.

U. S.—How's politics?
B.—Hot; red hot.

U. S.—That seems a little odd. What is the bone of contention?
B.—The Democrats want a change.

U. S.—Is their candidate, then, a great statesman of vast experience?
B.—Not at all. He don't know as much about politics as the average citizen. He has been a soldier from boyhood. I doubt if he has cast a dozen votes in his life, which has been bounded by the camp and the barracks.

U. S. (getting red in the face)—What kind of a change do they want?
B.—They don't say. They are as quiet about that as mice, just as they were in Congress last session.

U. S. (bringing down his cane with a thump)—This is the rottenest proposition yet. If I jump into the dark for a change when I am better off than I ever was before, and better off than any other man in the world, write me down as the boss lunatic of history.—Cincinnati Commercial.

HERE TWADDLE.

Democratic speakers still have the unblushing impudence to cry "fraud."

What nonsense!

If the Democrats believe that Tilden and Hendricks were cheated out of the Presidency, why did not the Cincinnati Convention re-nominate those two men this year?

What! Thrust aside the rightful President and Vice-President, wrongfully defrauded of their high positions, and nominate Hancock and English! Is that consistent? Go into Indiana, the home of Vice-President Hendricks, and choose the meanest miser of its population to take the place that is Hendricks' by right! Is that honest?

But consistency and honesty are not to be expected of the Democratic party. This is well, because, if they were, that expectation would lead to much disappointment.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Democratic orators are fond of parading Hancock as "the hero of Gettysburg," "the man who saved the battle of Gettysburg," etc. The truth is that Hancock was a subordinate at Gettysburg, under the command of General George G. Meade, now dead. General Hancock was wounded early in the fight, and the battle was decided some time after he was carried off the field. Hancock neither planned nor won the battle: the glory belongs to Meade.

These are the facts of history. Hancock could make a creditable use of that goose quill of his by giving Meade his due.

If General Hancock is opposed to Chinese immigration, why don't he say so? He knows the people of this coast are anxious to hear from him.

He put his foot in the tariff question. Now let him take another step and tell what he don't know about the Chinese question.

"WE HAVE THE SAME RIGHT TO PROTECT OURSELVES FROM BEING OVER-RUN BY ALIEN HORDES FROM ASIA AS AGAINST GRASSHOPPERS OR ANY OTHER THREATENED DANGER."—James A. Garfield's opinion on the Chinese question.

In the forged Morey letter the word "companies" is spelled "compans." Garfield was long a teacher, and is a man of superior education. This blunder in spelling shows that he could never have written the letter.

The girls who were to be confirmed recently in St. John's Roman Catholic Church, Concord, were officially informed beforehand by the Bishop that he would not lay his hands on any head that bore banged or frizzed hair.

The Mexican dollar, compared as pure silver with the U. S. silver dollar, is worth one dollar and one five-tenths cents. Compared with the U. S. gold dollar, it is worth eighty-four cents.

A copy of the spurious letter to Morey can be seen at the GAZETTE office, also a genuine letter from Mr. Garfield to the editor of the GAZETTE. Any one who calls is welcome to see both.

The Esmeralda County Bank of Candelaria, of which D. A. Bender is Vice-President, has a capital of $50,000. It is likely to do an excellent business.

It is announced that work on the southern extension of the Nevada Central, from Austin to the C. & C. near Walker lake, will be commenced next spring.

Dr. aTanner's competitive fast in England with moderate drinkers will excite even more attention than his recent fast did.

Dudley Haskell, for the shooting of George Schwartz over a year ago, is to be tried in San Francisco Nov. 8th.

No more letters from Hancock. He must have taken the Sun's advice, and returned his goose quill to the original goose.

A Trenton, N. J., family gives nine votes to Garfield. The roots of that family tree must start from Ohio soil.

Rufus Shoemaker is about to start another newspaper—this time in Grass Valley.

Straws! Bah. Give us bricks like the results in Ohio and Indiana.

WHO MADE IT SECTIONAL?

The Democratic organs are now whining feebly that the Republicans are making a sectional struggle of this contest for the Presidency.

It is certainly true that the North and West have roused up, and are solid for Garfield. But what brought this about?

The sinister Solid South.

There was a menace in that solidification of the South that the North and West could not overlook. Those Southern States had once banded together to destroy the Union. They had again united. For what? To creep stealthily into power, to fasten upon the Executive, to control the Supreme Court and to hold their sway in Congress, so that their losses during the war might be paid from the Federal treasury out of taxes wrung from the North and West.

This was the scheme that cemed the South and made it Solid. Is it any wonder that the North and West smelled danger?

SOME LEADING ISSUES.

The tactics of the Democrats, during the closing days of the campaign, have been very plain. Their object is to make all the noise possible over the forged Morey letter, and distract attention from the great issues of the contest. The Chinese question is not an issue. Both parties take the same stand respecting it. Both are pledged to correct the evil of Chinese immigration.

The maintenance of an honest and efficient Civil Service is one of the most important things to be considered at this time. The public business is now in the hands of an army of 100,000 "honest, well-trained and capable men. Not a cent of the public money has been stolen during the present Administration. The election of Hancock means "a change." All these efficient, tried and trusty servants would be discharged. Their positions would be filled by a horde of greedy office-seekers, incompetent and untrustworthy, appointed for political services in accordance with the Democratic maxim that "the victors belong the spoils."

Another important consideration for voters is the preservation of an honest, stable currency. The Republican party, after the most determined opposition from the Democrats in Congress, succeeded in restoring the currency of the country to a coin basis, and is pledged to specie payments. A Democratic triumph to-morrow would open the way to inflation and endless tinkering with the currency. The Democracy is pledged to the overthrow of the system of National banks, which has proved such a safeguard to the business community.

Voters should remember that the election of a Democratic President will bring about such changes in the Supreme Court as will result in the legalizing of countless rebel claims, amounting to hundreds of millions of dollars. Many of these claims are already on file in Washington, and all will be pressed for payment should the Democrats gain complete control of the Government.

The man who votes the Democratic ticket to-morrow will vote to uphold the doctrine of State Sovereignty, which continues to threaten the existence of the United States as a Nation, and which the war was fought to overcome. The Democratic party is wedded to the theory, and could not consistently oppose the secession of States and the consequent dissolution of the Republic, should serious occasion for quarrel again arise between the North and South. The theory of State Sovereignty is the great original dividing line between the Democratic and the Republican party. The Republicans maintain the supremacy of the National Government, and their motto has ever been "the Union."

These are a few of the main issues of the election. As regards the personal qualifications of the two candidates for President, there is only one fit for the office. Garfield has the character, the ability and the training to make him a better President than the country has ever had. Hancock is a soldier, deplorably ignorant of politics and totally inexperienced in legislation and the machinery of government. Nothing but a continued series of blunders could be expected from his Administration. An incompetent man in the White House is dangerous to the country. As well intrust the navigation of a great ocean steamship to a man who had never seen the sea, as to place Hancock in command of the Shiof State.

SOMETHING TO REMEMBER.

All patriotic Americans revere the memory of Charles Sumner, who devoted his lofty talents to the service of his country. He took his stand on principle and never consented to a compromise. It was just after his famous speech on "The Crime Against Kansas" had been delivered that Preston S. Brooks approached him from behind and struck him down with his murderous cane, on the floor of the Senate chamber. That blow destroyed Sumner's health, caused years of agony, and finally his death. The cowardly assassin, Brooks, was a member of Congress, and immediately after the assault a resolution was introduced in the House to expel him. William H. English, of Indiana, now the Democratic candidate for the Vice Presidency, voted against that resolution.

TARIFF RECORDS.

What the Platforms Say.

THE DEMOCRATIC.

At Cincinnati, June 6, 1880.

The time has come for the people of the United States to declare themselves in favor of free seas, and a progressive free trade throughout the world.

At Charleston and Baltimore in 1860.

We, the Democracy of the Union, in Convention assembled, hereby declare our affirmation of the resolutions unanimously adopted by the Democratic Convention at Cincinnati in the year 1856, believing that Democratic principles are unchangeable in their nature when applied to the same subject matters.

At New York in 1868.

A tariff for revenue upon foreign imports.

At St. Louis in 1876.

We denounce the present tariff as a masterpiece of injustice, inequality and false pretenses. We demand that all Custom House taxation shall be only for revenue.

At Cincinnati June 25, 1880.

A tariff for revenue only.

CAN THEY BE TRUSTED?

Can the Democratic party be trusted to collect the revenue of this country? Let us look at a few facts. During the last four years there have been seized and destroyed in the South 3,874 illicit distilleries. In trying to collect internal revenue taxes in the South, in the same period, 25 revenue officers have been killed, 55 wounded, and 7,084 Democrats arrested. There is not a single revenue officer to-day, in the South, who is not furnished by his department, as a necessary part of his outfit, with a breech-loading rifle and a pair of pistols. This is the way things are now in the South.

It is well known that the Democrats, especially in the South, object on general principles to paying internal revenue taxes. The position of the Southern States is that the general Government has no business to invade with its officers a Sovereign State for the purpose of levying duties on tobacco and whiskey. The last Democratic Convention in Alabama passed a resolution that no man should be tried in a Federal Court for a violation of the revenue laws. What does that mean? It means that he should be tried in a State Court, which would let him go free every time. It means that the Southern people are in sympathy with the "moonshiners."

Now will the tax-payers of the North and West trust the Democratic party to collect the revenue?

A MEMORABLE CAMPAIGN.

We predict that the campaign of 1880 will be famous in the history of campaigns; voters will consider the course of the two parties in their conduct of the canvass. The Republican papers and speakers have talked about great questions of government and statesmanship, upon finance, the tariff, States' rights, etc. The worst thing they have said about the candidate for President was that a military life unfitted a man for the office of President, and that the Democrats themselves have said a thousand times. The Democratic party have advanced their ideas only to the edge of legitimate political discussion. Their time has been almost entirely occupied in spreading old disproved stories of corruption. They have attacked Garfield with a fury that would have been becoming if he had been a boss Tweed or a Southern bull-dog, but being, as has been amply proven by witnesses of all parties, a high-minded and honorable man, who has rendered extraordinary services to his country, it only shows the means whereby they hope to get power. If Hancock and English had been Republican nominees they would have been vilified just the same.

CONGRATULATIONS.

We congratulate our readers on the result of yesterday's elections. The Democrats as well as the Republicans are included in our congratulations, for, if they only knew it, the Democrats are better off than they would be under Hancock. The demands of time and space will not permit any extended comment to day on the telegrams which have come pouring in from all quarters. It is enough at present to know that the Republicans have elected their Presidential ticket by a grand majority. The Solid South has been met by a Solid North. At the present writing, however, New Jersey, California, Oregon and Nevada are in doubt.

THE REPUBLICAN.

At Chicago in 1860.

While providing revenue for the support of the general government by duties upon imports, sound policy requires such an adjustment of these imports as to encourage the development of the industrial interests of the whole country.

At Philadelphia in 1872.

The revenue, except so much as may be derived from a tax on tobacco and liquors, should be raised by duties upon imports, the duties of which should be so adjusted as to aid in securing remunerative wages to labor, and promote the industries, growth and prosperity of the whole country.

At Cincinnati in 1876.

The revenue necessary for current expenditures and the obligations of the public debt must be largely derived from duties upon imports, which, so far as possible, should be adjusted to promote the interests of American labor and advance the prosperity of the whole country.

At Chicago in 1880.

We affirm the belief avowed in 1876 that the duties levied for the purpose of revenue should so discriminate as to favor American labor.

CORRUPTION AT THE POLLS.

Decent men of both parties must have been disgusted with the purchase of votes almost openly carried on in this precinct yesterday. The Italians were bought up like so many cattle, and herded into the polls by the Democratic workers. It was notorious all through the day that the Democrats were buying votes and paying high prices for them—as high in some cases as $35 or $50 apiece. Republicans were disheartened by noon, when they saw how things were going. The corrupt and shameless use of money furnished by James G. Fair converted the usual Republican majority in Washoe county into a majority for the Democrats. The election was a sad travesty on "the expression of the will of the people at the polls."

The present election law is defective and needs amending. The ballot as cast in this State and in all the other States of the Union is not a full protection to the voter, and does not sufficiently guard against fraud. Our ballot system is not secret. Voters can be furnished ballots outside the boundaries of the polling place and made to keep them in sight until they are deposited in the ballot box. This is not right. Make the ballot absolutely secret and all fraud and intimidation at the polls will cease.

Great Britain, Australia and Canada have a system of voting by ballot which is absolutely secret. In those countries the voters are allowed to enter the polling place only one at a time. Every voter must procure his ballot from the presiding officer in the polling place. There is an official ballot bearing the names and description of all the candidates. The official ballots are all in the possession of the presiding officer, and no other ballots are permitted to be used. To prevent the use of any other, the presiding officer places his initials upon each ballot, and also numbers it. The voter, on receiving his ballot, is required to step into a private compartment and there mark with a cross on his ballot the names of those candidates for whom he desires to vote. He then folds his ballot so that nothing but the number and the initials on the back of it are displayed, and returning to the presiding officer hands him the ballot. The officer deposits the ballot in the presence of representatives of each candidate. The numbers on the ballots are written upon a flap, or counterfoil, which flap is torn off by the officer before placing the ballot in the box. It is made a misdemeanor for any voter to take his ballot outside the polling place, or to show what names he has marked on it.

The foregoing is a general outline of the system of voting now in use in Canada, which in its leading features is the same as that followed in Great Britain and in Australia. It has given perfect satisfaction. It prevents the purchase of votes and puts a stop to intimidation. There are some difficulties in the way of the adoption of such a system in this country, but they are not insuperable. What is most required is a law entirely protecting the voter from observation for a space of time immediately before he deposits his ballot. Under the American plan of party tickets, with long lists of candidates and often three or more tickets in the field, the adoption of an official ballot would be difficult. Every man who desires to see elections purely and decently conducted must be in favor of some reform over the system of voting now in vogue. We hope to see some action taken in this matter. The legislator who will give this State a good ballot act this winter will deserve the gratitude of every honest citizen within its borders.

THE NATIONAL PARTY.

Horatio Seymour of New York is reported to have lately said: "I am sick of the word 'Nation.'" No wonder. He's a Democrat. The Democratic idea is that the Constitution is a compact or agreement between Sovereign States, which have linked themselves together in a confederacy called the United States. The Republican idea is that this is a Nation, not a confederacy; that the Government is one of the people, not of delegates from Sovereign States; that while State rights must be respected, there is no such thing as State Sovereignty, and that the authority of the general Government is paramount. The Republicans assert the right of the Government to stretch forth its arm to protect the poorest and humblest of its citizens. The Democrats deny that the Government has any right to thus protect its citizens. They say: "You must not invade a Sovereign State with your marshals and your troops. The State will protect its own citizens. You have no right to interfere with our elections." That is the Democratic doctrine. And we know what the Democratic practice is. We know how Mississippi and Arkansas and Kentucky and other Southern States protect citizens at the polls. Everybody has heard of the Ku-klux-Klan, the White Liners and tissue ballots.

There is a broad distinction between the parties that voters must choose between to-morrow: Republicanism is National, Democracy sectional; Republicanism would make any sacrifice for the preservation of the Union, Democracy would see the Union split asunder rather than concede Sovereignty to the Nation. A Republican is proud of his birth in the United States, under the Stars and Stripes; a Democrat rejoices that he was born in "Old Virginia," or some other State, and the only men who ever fired upon, tore down or trampled under foot the Stars and Stripes were Democrats.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The newspapers are full of items about Sara Bernhardt, the greatest of living actresses, who has just arrived at New York. One of her peculiarities is that she is the mother of several children but has never been married. She says she is unable to tell her children who their respective fathers are. In spite of these eccentricities, the woman has been admitted to the best society in Europe. It remains to be seen how she will be treated in New York. A preacher of that city thus advertised her last Sunday: "I cannot refrain in this connection, from referring to an unholy woman of shame who has come to this city to flaunt herself on a public stage. I hope that none of you will so degrade yourselves as to encourage her immoralities in any way."

The Sun says that in the coming sculling match on the Thames for all nations, four countries will each be represented by two of their best oarsmen—Canada, by Henlan and Ross; Australia, by Trickett and Laycock; the United States, by Riley and Plaisant; England, by Boyd and Elliott. This is a fine array of oarsmen, and yet there are a dozen others entered only a little inferior, including Blackman, Nicholson, Higgins, Hawdon, and Hosmer. The entries now number twenty; they ought to be cut down to ten or twelve at most.

The population of hell is likely to receive considerable additions by-and-by, through false swearing over the Morey forgery. Much contradictory testimony has been given in the trial of the forger Philp, and some of the witnesses must have lied like the very devil. A poor old woman made affidavit that she was the mother of the mythical H. L. Morey. She has since sworn that she was not his mother, and never saw him, but was brided to testify that he was her son. The Democrats who hired an old woman to perjure herself are ornaments to their party.

No thinking man believes any of the vile attacks upon the character of Garfield. Garfield corrupt! For many years he was chairman of the Congressional Committee on Appropriations, where his nod could take millions from one industry and give it to another, where his influence could have been sold for millions. And Garfield is as poor as a school teacher to-day! Everybody knows he's poor. His most slanderous enemies admit that. Garfield corrupt! Why, as Bob Ingersoll says, "the men who are today blackening his reputation are not fit to black his shoes."

A short time ago the GAZETTE contained an item respecting some rye raised in Genesee valley, Plumas county, from seed found in the crop of a wild goose. A specimen was sent to the Department of Agriculture at Washington. Commissioner LeDuc states that the grain is not rye, but a species of Polish wheat, whose cultivation is confined chiefly to California and Montana. The incident shows the important part which migratory birds play in distributing seeds over the earth.

A young woman has been sadly deceiving the ladies of Minneapolis, Minnesota. She appeared in the place as a medical student and wore masculine garments. Passing herself off as a nephew of August Belmont of New York, she made love to a number of girls and got free board for a year out of a prospective mother-in-law. It was eighteen months before the imposition was discovered.

An Irish landowner's life is not a happy one. Lord Clancurry, who has the misfortune to be possessed of a considerable area of the "auld sod," lately received a letter containing the cheerful intelligence that the Ribbonmen had determined to shoot him. It was suggested that he take some steps in the matter. If he is wise he has probably stepped out of the country.

This item shows the extent of internal revenue frauds in the South. Collector Clark, under date of Atlanta, Ga., telegraphs: "I have seized within thirty days thirty illicit distilleries, two teams and about 1,000 gallons of illicit spirits. Nine of the distilleries were in the notorious Red Oak neighborhood. As soon as the stills are torn out in that section others are at once set up and the illicit work resumed."

The people cannot afford to trust the finances of this country to the Democratic party. We have an honest currency, a currency good as gold throughout the length and breadth of the land. Give the Democrats a chance to tinker with it, and they will inflate it a thousand millions, get it below par, pay off U. S. bonds with it, and injure the credit as well as dishonor the obligations of the Nation.

The Reveille received electrotypes of the Morey letter and threw them into the "hell-box." The Silver State also received them and runs them under the heading, "The alleged Garfield letter." It says editorially that it does not know whether it is genuine or not. The Virginia Chronicle, Eu-reka Sentinel and Elko Independent publishes it and pledge their reputation that it is genuine.

It is doubtless true that many Democrats fought for the Union in the war. Loyal Democrats were known as War Democrats at that time. But had it not been for Democrats—"Secesh" Democrats—there would have been no rebellion and no war. The Democratic party never was a loyal party. Who ever heard of a War Republican? A Republican is for the Union first, last and all the time.

"I am opposed to nigger domination," said General Hancock to General Grant. Abraham Lincoln once said, "No man can be elected President of this Republic who spells negro with two g's." The friends of the downtrodden and the oppressed will to-morrow endorse that observation of Lincoln's.

No law for the protection of the ballot box has been passed in any State of the Union during the past twenty years that was not passed by the Republican party. During the same period no such law has been defeated in any State that was not defeated by the opposition of Democrats.

The Modoc Independent makes this sagacious observation: "This paper cannot undertake to run an individual out of this town because he raises disturbances. Let those who have lots of muscle do the driving."

East Oakland has been startled by the suicide of a well-known merchant, Joseph Chessman. He resides with his mother-in-law, Mrs. Know. No explanation is offered of the cause of his desperate deed.

General Hancock said to a number of veterans Saturday who called on him that he wanted no coerced votes cast for him, and deprecated the influencing of employes by their employers.

The mining camp of Lundy, Mono county, Cal., is coming into prominence. The S. F. Bulletin remarks that it has grown this summer from insignificance into a prosperous mining camp.

The Republican nominees on the Ormsby Legislative ticket announce in a published card that they are unperturbed to any candidate for the U. S. Senatorship.

Henry Ward Beecher says this is no time to ask questions as to one's religious belief, and that if asked to preside over Bob Ingersoll's meeting he would do so.

John Kelly denies the story in Saturday's New York Herald, about trading with General Arthur. The matter has made considerable talk.

Oregon had her first snow of the season on Saturday. Snow fell in Umatilla county to the depth of an inch, but quickly disappeared.

The Sun says "a candidate for President cannot write himself into office." Certainly Hancock is no exception to this rule.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

The wife of General O. H. LaGrange died in Oakland Friday evening.

A St. Joseph policeman hit a drunkard on the head with a club and killed him.

Not long since the little son of Rev. R. F. Allen, of Petaluma, was badly burned by picking up a lighted cigar and putting it in his pocket, and last Friday he died from his injuries.

A Stockton well-borer named Newell is a somnambulist. The other night he jumped out of a window, falling about five feet, and injuring his feet severely.

At the Hotel de Redwood, Santa Cruz, a blast was put in a boulder Monday last. It hung fire fourteen hours, and went off as the men were returning the next day. They narrowly escaped.

The stage running between Nevada City and North San Juan was stopped Saturday afternoon by two masked men. They attempted to blow open Wells, Fargo & Co's box, and while at work Supervisor Robert Huckins, who was on board, attacked them and captured one. The other escaped. The Sheriff's posse started in pursuit.

One day last week, says the Oroville Mercury, the head dam of the Forbestown ditch caught fire and was destroyed. The dam is situated on Lost Creek, Plumas county, seventy-five feet in height, and backs the water up for nearly three miles. It was two years in building and cost $60,000. It caught from fire raging in the woods.

An Unexpected Answer.

The Orangethorpe Sunday School celebrated its sixth anniversary last Sabbath afternoon. In the review of past lessons the question was asked: "What did God do on the seventh day?" (referring to the creation of the world.) Answer: "He rested." What else did He do?" Promptly came the answer from a little eight-year-old boy: "He read His newspaper."

MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of thirty and sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits aropy sediment will often be found, and some small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin, milky hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

SURPRISE VALLEY.

Bountiful Crops-The Country Developing Rapidly-Progress of Cedarville - A Fine New Church-Ayers Flouring Mill-Bidwell Hoping for a Railroad.

FORT BIDWELL, Oct. 25, 1880.
Editor Gazette:—I left your beautiful growing town of Reno Thursday morning, October 14. Our coach was full and our journey for the day and night a pleasant one. I was very much surprised at the number of large ricks of hay and grain. I was informed that there were over 100,000 bushels of grain, from three miles north of Cedarville to the south end of the valley. The hay crop is as large or larger than ever known.

Surprise valley seems all alive with progress. New farm houses have gone up on every hand, and of a better quality than heretofore. Mr. Minto, who was married a few weeks ago to the daughter of Mr. Honebeck, has built a fine residence at Eagleville, into which he has moved his bride. Although quite an old bachelor a few weeks ago, I heard the remark, "Mr. Minto is about the youngest man in this valley." I thought so too, and it is to be hoped many more old bachelors of Surprise valley will go and do likewise.

The greatest change was seen at Cedarville. The storehouses of Crepler & Bomer were full of grain, and still it came. Trade seems lively and people happy. Main street has been widened 40 feet, which gives a much improved appearance, and adds largely to safety from fire. Several buildings have been built, among which is the large Odd Fellows' building and the Methodist Episcopal Church. The former is on Main street and is a fine building 24 by 60 feet, two stories high and will be an ornament to the town.

The church occupies one of the best lots in the place and is a beautiful structure 24 by 52 feet, with tower and bell. This is the first church building in Modoc county. The citizens of Cedarville are proud of their church, because of its beauty and because it is the first in this large county. The cost will be about $2,500. We shall owe this church to the energy and skill of our friends of the enterprising firm of Cressler & Bomer. I am glad to say others are talked of in Modoc county, and very much on the inspiration created by the Cedarville church.

After service at Cedarville Sabbath morning, Oct. 24, Rev. J. W. Pendleton, preacher in charge for Surprise valley, took us in his carriage to Fort Bidwell, where it was his privilege to preach to a very attentive audience. The same thrift spoken of above shows itself at this end of the valley. Mr. Ayers has built and occupied for a dry goods store a very fine building this summer. A large and somewhat elegant house is under construction by Mr. Peterson. A large flouring mill is also being built by Ayers & Bonker, costing $10,000. This will add to this end of Surprise valley. Mr. Adams has finished a large addition to his hotel. Other improvements are seen, and when a new church building shall be added, equal to the one at Cedarville, Bidwell may be considered as second to no town in Modoc county.

Bidwell hopes for a railroad. The Oregon, Eastern, which is expected to connect with the Nevada & Oregon narrow gauge at Lakeview, is making a preliminary survey toward Winnemucca. The passed through Bidwell eastward some weeks since. Hurry up your Nevada Narrow Gauge.

W. CARVER.

A Meteorite as Big as a Washtub Falls in Humboldt County.

The Silver State says: Last Tuesday night, about 11 o'clock, as John Seeley, a cattle man, was coming to Winnemucca, while in the vicinity of Rose creek, some twelve miles south of town, a ball of fire passed across his pathway with the seeming velocity of a cannon ball. It struck the ground at an angle of several degrees from the horizon, some two or three hundred yards ahead of him and ploughed a furrow for several hundred feet through the sagebrush, raising quite a dust. Mr. Seeley, when he recovered from the fright caused by this singular phenomenon, tied his horse to a sagebrush and followed up the track of the blazing ball, and found it to be an iron-colored ball as large as a washtub and so hot that it set fire to the sagebrush. It now lays about a mile and a half from Rose Creek station, and about half a mile eastward from the Italian's wood pile. Mr. Seeley has the reputation of being a truthful man, and as it is very easy to get to where he says the meteor struck and can now be seen, it is to be hoped that some of our citizens who have the time to spare, will visit the scene and ascertain the facts.

A Straw.

Bob. Doan at Pyramid has a contract for packing wood for the Jones & Kinkead Mill. He has a lot of mules, all named for Senators and statesmen. He says Garfield invariably comes in ahead of Hancock.

JONES & KINKEAD.

Everything Working Well and the Prospects Excellent.

Everybody is encouraged at Pyramid. The prospects are brilliant. The new Huntington crusher works to perfection. It is a little wonder. The two stand side by side with only room for a double ore feeder between them, and hammer away day and night, crushing over 20 tons a day. The mill stands in the canyon just east of the mouth of the tunnel. There is a drop of twelve feet from the tunnel level into the rock breaker. Eight feet from the rock breaker into the feeder. From the battery there is a drop into the tanks to the pans, etc., and then into the settler. The Dodge rock breaker is the finest of its kind. It has wrought iron jaws, which are better than steel, as they do not get so smooth and slippery. The two pans hold forty hundred each at a charge. The settler holds three tons. The machinery is run by a handsome little engine of seventeen horse power. The boiler is a large one, four and a half by sixteen feet, with forty-nine tubes. It has an excellent furnace with abundant draft. Everything is working like a top. There has been some trouble with water, but there will be no more. A big well eight feet square has been dug to a depth of twenty-five feet, and at the bottom three drifts have been run twenty-five feet each. Then the water from the battery is run into slum tanks. After it settles it is pumped back and the tailings put through the pans. The water from the pans runs down the canyon and the slickens is saved in reservoirs. The mill gives entire satisfaction.

IN THE MINE.

Work will be resumed inside of another month. A new boiler will have to be brought from the Eureka mine and set up at the hoisting works. The old one is eaten out, by the bad water. The tunnel will be pushed forward with Burleigh drills and it is thought will reach the ledge inside of four months. There are 1,500 tons of ore on the dump that will work over $10 clear profit. The mill saves 80 per cent, and the rock averages $20 a ton. It is the intention to keep a thousand tons on the dump ahead of the mill. The bullion turned out is 900 fine. The rock contains a little iron, but is readily disposed of. Kinkead is at work getting things settled into routine. He has his coat off, wears a red shirt and sticks his pants in his boot tops. He is in excellent health, except that he hurt his side by a fall into one of the tanks a day or two ago. He is coming in the day before election with the first bar of bullion.

Enthusiastic Democrats at Verdi Discourse Upon Local Politics.

VERDI, Oct. 28.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—The Democratic candidates held a rousing meeting here Thursday. Stirring speeches were made by Mr. Berry, Democratic candidate for Assembly, Mr. Rankin, Mr. Walker, Capt. Flannigan and others, giving us good and sufficient reasons why the Democratic ticket should be elected from Hancock down, holding out hopes of a bright future for Washoe and Truckee valleys, when under a Democratic administration we shall be released from the vampire in the shape of the C. P. R. R. that is now sapping our vitality; clearly showing that when that soulless corporation shall be compelled to remove the back freight on Eastern goods a pair of pants that now costs $8, can, with a proper reduction in freight, be bought for $7.98; a shirt that we are forced to pay $3 for could readily be purchased for from $2.98 to $2.99, and other goods in proportion. Our potatoes that we now have to pay ranchers 1 1/2 and 1 1/2 cents per pound could, under a Democratic rule, be laid down from Sacramento and San Francisco for from 1/2 to 3/4 of a cent per pound, allowing they can be bought for from 1/2 to 3/4 of a cent per pound in San Francisco, which occurs every year. Our hay, which now is worth from $12 to $16 per ton, could then be laid down at from $10 to $12 per ton. No mention was made of the tariff question or other local issues, excepting a few scathing remarks of Capt. Flannigan on the flagrant outrage upon the taxpayers by the County Commissioners who have been accused of purchasing tickets for invalids from the hospital and sending them home when they could as well remain here to die as to be sent home to be among their friends. After a liberal supply of liquid refreshments, the meeting adjourned with three cheers for the Democratic ticket.

DEMOCRAT.

Improvements At Boca.

The Boca Brewery has added 1,500 barrels to its capacity. It has also built a substantial wood shed to hold 210 cords and a dwelling house for three families. They are now brewing three or four times a week, making about 400 barrels a week. As soon as the weather gets cold they will brew 600. There are twenty men employed at the brewery and twenty-four in San Francisco bottling.

H. H. BECK.

A Reply to His Charges Against County Officers.

RENO, NEV., Oct. 29.

Editor Gazette:—The bills and items in this morning's Journal are worthy of notice. H. H. Beck, alias Middelings, who complains so loudly of past, present and future county officers, is recognized in the county as a vile slanderer, whose tongue is always ready to stab the good name and reputation of any one in vile, abusive and indecent terms, for the purpose of adding to his own notoriety and reputation. He who strikes blows must expect to receive them, and we feel at liberty to comment on the conduct and character of H. H. Beck, alias Middelings. It appears from the bills that Mr. Beck, alias Middelings, has charged, not only the same fees of which he complains, but that he has out Herodotus Herod. And he cannot be excused on the grounds of ignorance, for the charges are so outrageous that no one could possibly be mistaken.

Take for instance: Filing four orders of County Board, $1. Everybody knows that the orders of the board are entered and not filed.

Certified copy of proceedings of Board for Reno Courier, $8.75. The county does not pay for writing locals or newspapers. Affidavits to 74 bills, $37. Beck has been loud in complaining of this item as illegal. Venue for trial jury in three parts, $3. Who ever heard of a writ of venire in three parts? The proper charge is $1 instead of $3. It was put in parts in order to get in $2 extra. It appears that nearly all the above items are illegal, and how it is that the immaculate H. H. Beck, alias Middelings, could hold up his hand before heaven and swear to them is something we cannot understand. Beck accused the county officers of perjury in swearing to their bills, but we venture the assertion that the hand of H. H. Beck, alias Middelings, is connected with a soul deeper stained with the crime of perjury than that of any county officer who ever crossed the threshold of the Court House. Then another of Beck's, alias "Middelings," indiscretions in this matter of swearing, on file and record, was at the Court House at the time the suit was commenced by the Committee of which Beck, alias "Middelings," was chairman. Mr. Beck considered it necessary that it should be brought in the Superior Court at Carson. In order to do this it was necessary to swear that the District Court was not in session, and while the sound of Sheriff Lamb's voice in opening the District Court was yet ringing in Beck's ears, he held up his hand before Judge Haydon, Notary Public, and his God and swore the District Court was not in session, a cold, unmistakable perjury. There is a portion of Mr. Beck's life before he came to this coast that to relate would be unpleasant to him. We therefore refrain from further comments. This man Beck, alias "Middelings," is the man that slanders our county officers and our best citizens. This is the man that would sooner have his sister marry a negro than an Irishman.

Brown's School Report.

The following is the report of the Brown's school for the month ending October 22, 1880: Number enrolled, 27; average daily attendance, 24. MISS GENIE PAYNE, Teacher.

A Grand Illumination.

Franktown was blazing Friday night. A procession with torches, banners and transparencies marched up and down. There were many ladies in the procession. Huge bonfires blazed at every corner. A unique feature was a vast illumination on the mountain side west of town. A fire had been raging there for a week and it had left dots of flame scattered about all up and down the vast wall for some distance. The evening was dark and the grand illumination showed up splendidly and roused a great deal of admiration. It seemed as if the very mountains were endorsing Garfield and Arthur.

A Card from H. H. Beck.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—I noticed an article in the Journal of this morning which I think indicates that the late Boss Tweed Ring of plunderers and perjurers are about to plead guilty and throw themselves on the mercy of the court. It is true the article is not signed by any one, but I presume the man of unlimited cheek, who runs the paper, is authorized to speak for his pets. If Washoe county should be so fortunate as to get back the plunder, I shall feel that I have not lived in vain.

JOTTINGS.

—Alpha is assessed $1.
 —Benton is assessed 50 cents.
 —All eyes are now fixed on the White House.
 —"How many eggs?" is the latest Court joke.
 —The Toronto restaurant is advertised for sale.
 —Nothing new in the Justice's Court.
 —N. Guerin is fitting up a restaurant in Harrison's old stand, on Virginia street.
 —Reno is filling up. There are few houses to let and new ones are going up.
 —J. V. Peers has built a neat and comfortable home east of the Catholic Seminary.
 —Theo. Winters sent twenty fine merino bucks to his Smoke creek ranch this week.
 —Postmaster Jamison orders 35,000 three-cent stamps every month for the Reno postoffice.
 —The next meeting of the G. A. R., will be held Nov. 8, instead of Nov. 10th.

—A great deal of freight is going north in teams from the railroad station here.
 —The stage horses up north are all sick with the epidemic. Their legs are badly swelled, and they pant from the slightest exertion.
 —An interesting scientific experiment is to hold a mirror up so that the eye will catch the reflection of the planet Jupiter. His moons can be distinctly seen.

—A lady advertises her ability to do all kinds of hair work to order, and will buy combings. She can be found at Mrs. Temple's millinery establishment, on Virginia street.
 —F. E. Gooch's new saloon, known as the Delta, under the management of William Hildge, is doing a thriving business. The stand is one of the best in town, and the place is admirably kept.

—All the excursionists to the recent barbecue at Sacramento whose names did not appear in the published card of thanks to Mr. Higgins unite in thanking him for courtesies extended during the trip.
 —Capt. T. B. Camp, late with D. A. Bender & Co., is now in the employ of Paxton, Curtis & Co. as Insurance Agent and Solicitor. He is thoroughly familiar with insurance business, and the insurance companies represented by P. C. & Co., are among the best.

—Now is the time for colds and coughs. Keep on your light summer underclothing, and Sanders will have you planted on the hill in no time. Buy a good, comfortable suit of woolen undergarments from the White House, and you can laugh at the cold winds from the mountains and will be safe from the dreaded pneumonia.

Fitzgerald's Sentence.

Haydon & Queen Wednesday moved the District Court for a new trial of Barney Fitzgerald, on the ground that Gertenbach, a jurymen, had said while the trial was in progress that he meant to hang the prisoner. Gertenbach filed an affidavit in denial, and Judge King overruled the motion. He then sentenced Fitzgerald to twelve years' imprisonment in the State Prison. In pronouncing sentence the Judge remarked that the prisoner might consider himself fortunate in receiving the verdict given by the jury in his case. He said that in view of the jury's recommendation to mercy and the ill health of the prisoner, the sentence had been made light. Fitzgerald is much elated over his sentence. He was taken to Carson Thursday.

A Robbery at Washoe City.

Park Sherman, a tobaccoist on Virginia street, attended the political meeting in Washoe on Tuesday night. He had with him a certificate of deposit issued by Paxton, Curtis & Co. for $200, and about $100 in cash. He came away with his nose damaged and his certificate of deposit and his coin missing. He does not know what hurt his nose nor where the money went, but thinks he must have been robbed while under the influence of high political spirits.

School for Girls.

DR. TANNER'S COMING EAST.

To Take Place in London and to Illustrate the Advantages of Teetotalism.

It having been printed that Dr. Tanner had become a teetotaler, a Sun reporter went to see the great faster to learn why. The little man was found at the residence of Dr. Gunn, looking bright and strong and eager to talk about his fast. "I am a temperance man; that's so," he said; "but it's no new thing with me. I have been a regular total abstainer, not only from all alcoholic drinks, but from tea and coffee, for years."

"But you drank wine after the fast?"

"I did, and I drank it simply as a medicine. If I had taken a dozen pledges I should have felt myself justified in drinking alcohol then. You see after my fast the microscope showed that my blood was decomposing. The physicians said it was owing to the fast; that the great decomposition of tissue had produced this condition of my blood. I thought that it was owing to the malarial atmosphere in which I lived in that hall. However, one thing was certain—my blood was decomposing. The thing to do was to stop it. Experiment has shown that any animal tissue placed in alcohol does not decay or decompose; that alcohol taken into the system has the effect of arresting decomposition of tissue. So, naturally, I took alcohol. I took it in the form of the purest and best wines I could buy. The effect was good. Now I'm glad to make this explanation, for I have always taken strong temperance grounds, and I don't want to appear inconsistent. I have differed with many men of my own profession as to the value of alcohol, claiming that it has been greatly overrated; for it is not a nutriment, nor is it valuable as a stimulant. It is simply good in cases of wasting of tissue, and as an antiseptic in cases of consumption, scrofula and such diseases."

"I can give you a bit of news," continued the Doctor. "I am making arrangements with Dr. B. W. Richardson of London to fast there. Dr. Richardson has gained considerable reputation on account of the stand he has made against the use of alcohol as a medicine. I have told him that I would do the forty days' fast again, in London, and he is to issue a challenge to the brewers, distillers and doctors. They may select six men, as near my age and physical condition as possible. They can take wine, beer, or any spirituous liquor during the fast, and I will take water only, and will see what the result will be. I am sure they can't stand it; and the reason is plain. When I fasted I lived on myself—on the decomposition of my tissues. I lost half a pound a day in tissues. It was as nourishing to me as half a pound of any other animal tissue. Now, as I said, alcohol checks the decomposition of tissue. Suppose I'd taken alcohol into my system during my fast. It would have stopped my supply of nourishment, and I'd have starved to death."

Dr. Tanner received a cablegram yesterday from England completing arrangements for a lecture tour there. He will sail in a few weeks.

Who Are Citizens.

Citizens of the United States are: 1. Persons born within the territorial limits and in allegiance to the government of the United States. Children born on the high sea or in foreign ports on board of ships or vessels of the United States are deemed to have been born within the territorial limits of the United States. 2. Persons born abroad, whose fathers were at the time of their birth citizens of the United States. 3. Persons born in foreign countries who have been naturalized under the laws of the United States. 4. Persons made citizens by act of Congress. 5. Persons born in allegiance to a foreign power, but in territory afterwards ceded to the United States, and who continued to reside within the ceded districts after cession. 6. Children of parents who were duly naturalized during the minority of such children. 7. The children of any alien who had declared his intention to become a citizen but died before he became naturalized. It is a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment not exceeding six months, for a person to vote or offer to vote, knowing that he is not entitled to vote.

Can Breathe Through His Ears.

Samuel Bremley, a barber of Mystic River, Conn., can breathe for a time without the use of either mouth or nostrils, as communication is kept up between his lungs and the atmosphere through his ears. That this is the case, he gives demonstrations when indulging in a cigar, by exhaling the smoke through the same channel.

The Nevada and Oregon Railroad Going Ahead.

General Hatch has received a telegram from Col. Moore, contractor of the Nevada and Oregon Railroad, now in New York, stating that he had ordered the rails and rolling stock for the road. Col. Moore will shortly be in Reno, and work on the road will be commenced immediately after his arrival. This is great news for Reno.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

Says the Truckee Republican: Improvement is the order of the day in Grass Valley. The town seems to have taken a new lease of life, and awakened from the Rip Van Winkle sleep into which it fell consequent upon the shutting down of the Allison Ranch, Massachusetts Hill, Scadden Flat and noted mines that made Grass Valley famous as the "boss" mining camp on the coast in the palmy days.

The Fruit Growers Friend.

Many of the leading orchard proprietors in northern Italy and southern Germany are cultivators of the common black ant, which insect they hold in high esteem as the fruit grower's best friend. They establish ant hills in their orchards, and leave the police service of their fruit trees entirely to the tiny colonists, which pass all their time in climbing up the stems of the fruit trees, cleansing their boughs and leaves of malefactors, mature as well as embryotic, and descending laden with spoils to the ground, where they comfortably consume or prudently store away their booty. They never invade such apples, pears and plums as have already been penetrated by the canker, which they remorselessly pursue to its fastnesses within the very heart of the fruit. Nowhere are apple and pear trees so free from blight and destructive insects as in the immediate neighborhood of a large ant hill five or six years old. The favorite food of ants would appear to be the larvae and pupae of those creatures which spend the whole of their brief existences in devouring the tender shoots and juvenile leaves of fruit trees.

Going In for Revolution.

Major Samuel V. Reid, an ex-Confederate soldier, a resident of Covington, Kentucky, and a commission merchant in Cincinnati, in the Cincinnati Commercial of Thursday, October 14, 1880, gave expression to his opinion as follows on the result of the October elections:

"I am for revolution. I fought them before, and I am ready to march out and fight them again. The musket will have to settle this business at last. These blankety blanked sons of blanks are hiring niggers to vote against us, and I tell you the people won't stand it much longer. The principles of the Southern Democrats lived in Washington, and they lived in Lee, and they live yet. The whole country has gone to hell. I would like to migrate to the Rocky mountains, and never see a white man again as long as I live."

Charles Francis Adams On The Political Situation—He Contrasts The Records of the Two Parties and Thinks Hancock Ought to be Sent to School.

New York, Oct. 27.

Charles Francis Adams, Jr., who supported Tilden four years ago, addresses the Independent Republicans here to-morrow night, to give his reasons for supporting Garfield now. He holds that while he thought Tilden was elected, the asserted fraud of 1876 is not a living issue. Besides, he says, later developments show that the fraud was not all on one side, and the Democratic party is in the position of a man who complains of having his pocket picked while himself cheating at cards. Therefore, he thinks the Democracy were wise in dropping the fraud candidate. Federal interference in Southern domestic affairs is over and specie payments have been re-established. The living issues of to-day are the questions of administration, and the Republican party and its candidates are pledged to continue the wise administration of Hayes, which will bear comparison with the best and purest preceding it. While Garfield and his party have at least four years of record of honor and success, their opponents offer no record as a basis for popular confidence. Their record is opposition and obstruction to resumption and sound finance. Their twenty years of opposition have made no mark justifying a change for their restoration to power now. Even as a free trader Adams is against the Democracy on its plank of tariff for revenue only. Its candidates evidently don't even know what a tariff is. No future free trade is to be won out of pure adulterated ignorance of the subject. Better fight the battle out with real enemies than put faith in those who chuck out great principles to voters as gamblers might toss pennies to tramps. Nor can Adams understand why, at this day of civil administration a mere soldier be made a Chief Executive of this great Nation. If Hancock's effusions upon the tariff are to be accepted as a fair sample of his knowledge of finance and currency topics, he would unquestionably furnish a good subject for admission to a commercial college; but his inaugural might contain some singular economical discoveries. Above all, Adams weighs the importance of such a vote for Garfield as will render impossible the dangers to national peace and prosperity which might come from an indecisive result with the Solid South for Hancock. He urges that a divided North will mean national peril of the most fearful character.

Grant Betting Cigars on the Election.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.

The Tribune's Syracuse special says: General Grant, in an interview to-day, said: "My observation in Connecticut leads me to think we shall have the State by seven thousand. The tariff is making a clean sweep of the whole country. It will affect Pennsylvania notably. I think the Republican majority in New York is under-estimated, but I see no reason to believe it will be less than 40,000. A few days ago I had a conversation with a gentleman in New York whom I know pretty well, and he was guarding me against hazarding as high an estimate as I placed on it. I simply said to him, 'Here, you smoke and I smoke. I will do this if New York goes Republican by 40,000 majority: You send me (you know my address) 1,000 cigars. If New York does not go Republican by 40,000 I'll send you 1,000 cigars.' It wasn't a bet, you understand. It was a present either way, as the case might be; but, (and the General gave a slight laugh, as he flipped the ashes from his burning cigar and looked towards the window and fleeting scenery) I guess he thought he would let me pay for my own cigars."

The Democratic Still Hunt in Ohio.

New York, Oct. 27.

Dispatches from Ohio report the Democrats engaged in a "still hunt." They are holding secret meetings throughout the State, hoping that the Republicans, who have a large majority, will let the State go by default. Democrats have hit upon an ingenious plan for circulating the bogus Chinese letter in the manufacturing districts. Handbills containing the letter are printed in different languages, with approving head-lines, indicating that they are circulated and endorsed by Republicans, thus: "A manly letter from General Garfield." "No objection to workingmen on account of nationality or color." "Manufacturers have a right to buy labor where it can be had the cheapest." "Any other policy would be foolish and hurtful." The Democrats in Ohio and Indiana are staking their last hopes on this forgery, and by such devices as this, and by constantly reiterating the fraud and ignoring evidence which exposes it until next week, they hope to get the workingmen's votes.

Latest Reports from Indiana.

New York, October 27.

From Indiana the news is that the Democrats are at work. George C. Gorham has arrived at Indianapolis and is at the Republican headquarters at work. Republicans feel quite confident of retaining at least the October plurality on Tuesday next, but there are some local weights with which the Democrats were burdened in the State election which are now removed. On the other hand, however, they are handicapped with English more directly. Still, the Republicans do not feel the strain as they did a few weeks ago, but efforts are being made to rouse them and bring out as full a vote relatively as that cast for Porter.

Garfield and the Chinese Question.

New York, Oct. 27.

The Tribune, reviewing Garfield's letter of acceptance on the Chinese question, and noticing that Hancock wrote nothing whatever on that point, and calling attention to the clear statement of his views on that point of prime importance to the Pacific coast, says: "In spite of this record the Democratic managers have had the bare-faced impudence to publish a forged letter putting into Garfield's mouth words which are flatly contradicted by his letter of acceptance and votes in Congress. The infamy of this forgery is all the more conspicuous because of the notorious silence of Hancock on this subject."

Official Returns of the Ohio Election.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 27.

The Secretary of State furnishes the following official returns for October: Secretary of State, Townsend (R.), 362,021; Lang (D.), 343,016; Lord (Gr.), 6,786; Doan (Prohibitionist), 2,815; Townsend's majority over Lang, 19,005. Supreme Judge, McIlvaine (R.), 364,045; Folett (D.), 340,998; Loudon (Gr.), 6,859; Ross (Prohibitionist), 2,853. McIlvaine's majority, 23,047. The highest majority was on Clerk of the Supreme Court, Crowell having 23,355. The total vote was 716,233. The Congressmen were elected as already reported, making a gain of six for the Republicans.

Serious Drought in the East.

New York, Oct. 27.

The moderate rains of the past day or two have brought but partial relief to industries dependent on water power. The drying up of streams in the Atlantic States may be said to extend from the Androscooggin down to the James, and even some of the local rivers, like the Delaware, are fordable at points where such a thing has not been known for many years. The drought, however, is felt more seriously at the eastward, and its effects are beginning to be felt in commercial as well as manufacturing circles.

Who Wrote Order No. 40.

New York, Oct. 27.

The well informed General Boynton, Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, declares that Samuel T. Glover, the well known Democratic lawyer of St. Louis, is the author of Hancock's Order No. 40, the letter to General Sherman on the Electoral count, and other papers, and that Hancock's only connection with them as author, was as a mere copyist.

Trying to Break Jail.

WALLA WALLA, Oct. 27.

The prisoners in the county jail attempted to break jail last night, but were discovered by Sheriff Thompson in time to prevent their escape. They had filed off the locks on the iron doors and dug a hole in the corner of their cell. Search was made and resulted in the discovery of a file and hisel.

A $500,000 Fire.

New York, Oct. 27.

The loss by the burning of the Ansonia Clock Works is estimated at over half a million. By this fire 12, 000 persons were thrown out of employment. Half of the employees were young women and girls. The company, it is said, estimate the loss at $1,000,000, but say that they are insured for more than half this sum.

Hancock in Doleful Dumps.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.

A dispatch from New York says: A visitor from Governor's Island reports that Hancock is quiet and gloomy and has abandoned all hope of election, and is sorry he ever entered the fight. He is especially distressed by the cartoons and newspaper attacks.

Denouncing the Garfield Forgers.

New York, Oct. 27.

The Sun, which has carefully noted the Garfield forgery, says this morning: Garfield is not, at least, as vile and detestable as he who, in order to defeat Garfield, forges a letter in his name.

The Skill of Philip, the Forger.

New York, Oct. 28.

The Tribune says: Philip recently wrote from memory Hancock's letter of acceptance. He also bet three glasses of beer that he could write a letter for Garfield which would not be detected. The bet was paid Tuesday. It is said that this is not the first time that Philip has tried his hand at forgery, although in the previous case he did not get into the courts. In the Kings County Democratic Convention in 1876 there was a sharp contest for the Surrogateship between Dailey and Livingstone, and the latter was only successful by one vote. While things were at a critical point a petition purporting to have been signed by prominent citizens of Brooklyn was handed into the Convention, urging the renomination of Wm. D. Veeder, then Surrogate. It was afterwards ascertained that many of the signatures to the petition were forgeries, and it is said that the forger was Kenard Philip. Philip is an Englishman, about 35 or 40 years old.

Quieting Title With a Shot Gun.

BIGGS, Oct. 28.

Yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock Thomas Flanagan shot and killed William King, about seven miles west of this place. They were quarreling about a piece of land. The boundary line between their places had been in dispute for several years, and Mr. King was nailing up some boards to stop any one from passing over a road crossing the disputed ground, when Flanagan appeared on the scene. After some words Flanagan left, and went home and returned with his shot gun. When King turned to go away Flanagan shot him in the back, killing him instantly. Flanagan returned home, put up his gun and came hurriedly into town and gave himself up, the brother of the murdered man in hot pursuit. King has been a teacher in this county for several years, and was highly respected, and in all respects a quiet and peaceable citizen. Both men are unmarried. Flanagan is now in jail at Oroville.

Some Plain Solid South Talk.

New York, Oct. 28.

A recent issue of the Meriden, Miss. Mercury contains the following extracts: "Make no more cowardly concessions that Secession was revolution and folly; no more self-accusations of having committed treason. The people of the North refuse to believe us and affect to believe, if we could control the Government to any extent, to such extent we would impair it. Then let us cease to concern ourselves about the National credit, neither upholding nor pulling it down; so, if it can stand without our active concern about it, let it stand, and welcome, and if it can't, let it fall and be damned. Discourage the idea that a position in the Federal Government is higher than in the State Government. Elevate the State pride until one feels it more honorable to be a Mississippian than a citizen of the United States."

The "Sun" on the Morey Forgery.

New York, Oct. 28.

The Sun says: Forgery, technically, the manufacture of the letter falsely attributed to Garfield, may not be. The bare fact may not exactly constitute that crime, and the vilest of criminals must not be punished illegally. But we do not see why the charge of criminal libel against the maker, who afterwards called Garfield a liar because he denied the authorship, cannot be maintained. If he can be punished legally, no person more richly deserves to pay the severest of penalties.

One of Barnum's Circulars.

New York, Oct. 28.

The Chairman of the National Democratic Committee issued the following answer to inquiries concerning the rest of Philip: The Republicans have arrested Philip for criminal libel in writing the article in Truth, and not for forging Garfield's letter, as they have telegraphed through the country. The arrest is a device to break the effect of the publication of Garfield's letter in favor of Chinese labor.

(Signed): W. H. BARNUM.

Unquestionably a Forgery.

New York, Oct. 28.

At the examination of Kennard Philip yesterday on a charge of having forged the Garfield letter, Joseph E. Payne, an expert of hand-writing for thirty years, Albert F. Southworth, an expert for more than twenty, and Daniel T. Ames, an expert for twenty-five years, all testified, after a careful examination, that in their belief the letter was a forgery, and that it was written and signed by Kennard Philip.

Expert Testimony on the Morey Letter.

New York, Oct. 29.

At Philips' examination to-day, experts Southworth and W. E. Hogan testified that in their judgment the Morey letter was not written by Garfield. Allen M. Leet, a newspaper reporter familiar with Philip's writing, swore he believed the letter was written by Philip.

Garfield's Signature in the "Bulletin."

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29.

The Bulletin this afternoon will print a fac-simile of a letter addressed by Garfield to his personal friend, O. R. Coe of this city, which will give an opportunity of comparison with the Philip letter, now being circulated here.

A Press Telegram.

VIRGINIA BEV, Oct. 30.

People here are astonished at the defalcation of B. A. Carrick, county treasurer. He states the amount at twenty-two thousand dollars, and is in jail. His bondsmen are good. He is on the Republican ticket for re-election.

HIS DENIAL SUFFICIENT.

Garfield's denial of the authorship of the Morey letter should be sufficient to convince any reasonable man that the letter is a forgery.

Why?

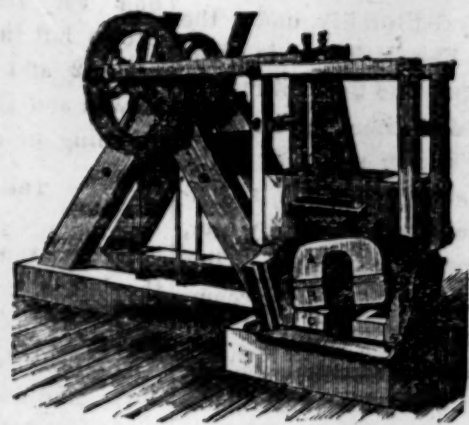

Because the whole truth of the matter is bound to come out in a short time. Should it result that Garfield had lied, his political death would immediately follow, and he would be crushed under the weight of obloquy that would be heaped upon him. Therefore, Garfield, who is a shrewd man, would not dare to repudiate a letter which he had written and signed. Such a repudiation would be an act of the greatest folly. It might give him a temporary advantage but would crush him in the end.

The authorship of a letter can be absolutely proven by experts. The detection of forgery has been reduced to an exact science. No man can conceal his handwriting. Its characteristics are betrayed in every line and curve, in the crossing of the t's and the dotting of the i's. So, likewise, no man's handwriting can be imitated beyond the certainty of detection. There will be some characteristic omitted, some peculiarities slighted, and the handwriting of the imitator will show through every line.

Now Garfield knows these things as well as any one. He knows that for him to lie about the Morey letter would ultimately prove his ruin. His worst enemies give him credit for superior ability, and no clever man will ever deliberately tell a lie that is certain to be found out and disgrace him for ever.

We have here presented this case in the most cold-blooded way, on the single ground that Garfield has common sense. We cannot understand how any sensible man, regarding the Morey letter from this neutral point of view, can consider it genuine in the face of Garfield's denial. Then think of Garfield's splendid reputation, his pure aims, his lofty character. Could such a man stoop to a lie before the face of a whole nation to gain a political advantage? Impossible!

BY TELEGRAPH.

Great Democratic Journal Declares the Morey Letter Spurious.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29. The Sun says editorially, under the head of "Not Fair." There is some degree of honesty due from all men to all other men at all times and under all circumstances, and in reference to the letter, the authorship of which is attributed to Garfield, but denied by him, there is some peculiar spelling. Thus the plural of company is spelled "compans," instead of "companies." It seems to us that some other misspelling corresponding with this in Garfield's handwriting should be found before any person can be justified in continuing to circulate this letter as his. Garfield writes a great many letters, and if that method is peculiar to him his other specimens can easily be obtained, but until they are the letter may be safely considered spurious. After persistently denouncing for four years the obtaining power by the Republicans through means of fraud, we have no desire to see it wrested from them by forgery. If we must choose between honesty and office we prefer honesty.

Democratic Riot in Denver—Chinamen Killed and China Houses Gutted—300 Arrests.

DENVER, Nov. 1. It is said that 8,000 illegal names have been registered here, and the city is full of roughs. Saturday night there was a Democratic procession. A considerable portion became intoxicated, and remained out all night. Sunday noon they made an assault on the Chinese houses, tearing down the buildings and driving out the Chinese. One was dragged from Hop Lee's place with a rope about his neck and his skull crushed in with boots and bricks. The police were called out, but were unable to control the mob. The fire department was ordered to throw water on the rioters, but the mob attacked them and badly wounded two firemen. Many Chinamen were fatally beaten, and one was rescued by the police and taken to jail, which was immediately surrounded by a mob who hurrahed for Hancock and yelled: "Lynch the leper." Special police managed to keep back the crowds. The other mob remained intact in the lower part of the city.

Up to 1 o'clock this morning the mob was going through the streets visiting all the Chinese houses and gutting them. An extra force of police and Deputy Sheriffs, numbering quite 2,000, have been sworn in, and have once fired with blank cartridges into the mob. The last report is that one Chinaman, far up town, was killed outright. Many persons have been knocked down. There are thousands of people on the streets, and the air is full of cries: "The Chinese must go," and "Hurrah for Hancock." The mob is unorganized and has developed no leadership, which is one saving feature.

THE CITY QUIET—300 ARRESTS.

DENVER, Nov. 1. The active response of citizens to the call of the authorities effectually checked the mob, and by midnight a very perceptible improvement was developed, which has steadily continued. Early this morning the miscreants raised a disturbance near the postoffice, but within a few minutes it was estimated that a thousand citizens, nearly all armed, were on the ground, and all the rioters at that point were arrested and sent to jail. Several hundred warrants have been sworn out by officers and between 200 and 300 arrests made. The city is now considered absolutely secure against any revival of mob rule, and the indignation among all classes is intense and earnest.

Greatest Running on Record.

LONDON, Nov. 1. In the six-day contest for the Astley belt, which began this morning at Agricultural Hall, the betting, at the start was two to one against Rowell, five to two against Brown, five to one against Dobler, five to one against Pegram, eight to one against Howard, and eight to one against Littlewood. The men started at a trot. At 10 o'clock this morning the score was as follows: Rowell 66 miles, Brown 61, Littlewood 63, Pegram 51, Howard 54, Dobler 61. At the start there was a great race for the lead between Rowell and Brown. The former accomplished the unprecedented feat of running 50 miles in 6 hours and 38 minutes. Brown has been off the track three times since the start, once for 25 minutes. The general opinion at present is that Rowell will win with Dobler second.

Score at three o'clock: Rowell 100 miles, Littlewood 93, Brown 73, Dobler 94, Howard 77, Pegram 71. Brown left the track at 35 minutes past 12 and has not yet returned. Rowell and Dobler have so far beaten anything on record.

The Trial of Philp.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1. In the examination of Philp to-day the defense called to the stand H. L. Morey.

He testified: I live in Lawrence, Mass., and was born in Lowell. I am a common laborer. Entered the army in '61, and remained until '65. Here is my discharge.

I know Henry L. Morey; he is my uncle. He lived in New Hampshire in Fisherville, for some years. He afterwards traveled for a commercial house in Philadelphia. I then lost track of him for three years, as I was in South America. On my return I saw him in the fall of '77 and spring of '78. I went to Lynn to see my step-mother and met him. I met him there both times, between February and March, '79. I was in Lynn getting papers signed for my pension which I lost by not being present at the biennial examination. I went with him to the City Hall. I have seen Henry L. Morey write and know his handwriting. The signature in the register of the Kirtland House, of Lynn, Mass., shown me is the signature of Henry L. Morey, as late as February 29, '79. I also find his signature here under date of October 17, '79. It reads, "H. L. Morey, Lynn." Main street is the principal street in Lynn. My uncle in Lawrence, Mass., showed me a certificate in June, '79. I read it and handed it back to him. The witness further said that the statement published over his name was not as he gave it, and that he had been offered $100 not to appear.

MOREY A MYTH. G. D. Adams, the postmaster of Lynn, Mass., called by the prosecution, said he knew of no H. L. Morey in that town, nor could he find out whether such a person had ever lived there.

An Outside View of the Prospect in Nevada. NEW YORK, Nov. 1.

A San Francisco correspondent of the Herald says: The fight is very active in Nevada, seemingly in favor of Fair for Senator. There is less reason now than when I last telegraphed to think that the Republican electors will be elected. The Democrats are well organized, active, and very aggressive. Should Nevada's electoral vote go to Garfield, it will be largely due to the influence of John W. Mackay, who is reported laboring to that end. Virginia City had a blazing anti-Chinese procession last night, and it is certain the Morey letter has had a great effect in the State. Republicans should not count on Nevada.

President Hayes Home Again.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 1. President and Mrs. Hayes arrived at Fremont, Ohio, at 1:30 this morning. The President will go to Washington probably on Thursday.

An Apache Raid.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1. A San Antonio telegram received from Colonel Grierson says that a band of about thirty Apaches, a remnant of Victorio's party, has crossed the Rio Grande into Texas, and killed a corporal and two private soldiers. The Indians were pursued by Baldwin's company and driven back into the mountains of Mexico.

Estimate of Republican Majorities.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1. The best estimates of Republican majorities in Western States are as follows: Ohio, 25,000; Indiana, 10,000; Illinois, 25,000; Michigan, 35,000; Wisconsin, 30,000; Minnesota, 30,000; Iowa, 50,000; Kansas, 30,000; Nebraska, 15,000; Tennessee (on Governor), 10,000.

U. S. Grant, Jr., Married.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1. Ulysses S. Grant, Jr., whose engagement with Miss Flood, of San Francisco, was broken off some time ago, was married to-day to Miss Chaffee, a daughter of ex-Senator Chaffee, of Colorado. After a time the couple will take a bridal trip to Mexico.

Surrender of Sioux.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1. A Times' special from Bismarck says: Sitting Bull has delayed his surrender awaiting the result of his negotiations for a trip in which he is to be placed on exhibition through the Eastern States. Five hundred of his braves surrendered to General Mills on the 31st.

Election Troubles in New York—A Conflict of Authorities.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. Late last night Supt. Walling, of the Police Department, telegraphed a general order to captains, declaring that his order of November first regarding serving warrants must be obeyed, and informing police captains he would hold them to strict accountability if it was disobeyed, and stating further that the Superintendent of Police was the only legal officer empowered to issue orders to the police force. This order of the Superintendent was because of contradictory and confusing orders of police commissioners who were generally regarded as influenced by their politics. The latest order of Supt. Walling aroused the Democrats this morning. Police Justice Duffy, accompanied by several Democratic leaders and counsel, entered the Superintendent's office, handed him forty-seven warrants and directed him to have them served, at the same time exhibiting an order for the arrest of the Superintendent if he refused. After some talk Superintendent Walling said he would have the warrants served. A large number of arrests have already been made for attempted illegal voting. A U. S. Deputy Marshall was arrested, charged with disorderly conduct at the polls. Police Justice Killdrecht discharged him with a reprimand. Over forty arrests of persons charged with illegal registration have been made upon warrants issued by Commissioner Davenport, who, with other U. S. Commissioners, held court in the Federal building. All were discharged. One Deputy Marshall was arrested for assaulting the Chief Marshall of one Assembly District, and was charged with drunkenness and neglect of duty. He was held in one thousand dollars bail.

Scraps of Election News.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2. Returns from Massachusetts show a large increase in votes in towns. It is thought that the Republican majority will be about as usual. A conflict between U. S. Supervisors and police is reported from New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Wilmington, Delaware, and other places. Many Supervisors have been arrested, but all were discharged, and the local officers making the arrests were arrested in turn and have likewise been discharged.

Bulldozing in South Carolina.

SUMTER, S. C., Nov. 2. Armed Democrats crowd the polls and will not allow the Republicans to get to them. The poll managers refuse to hold the election. The Deputy Marshalls' authority is defied, and they are expelled from the polls. No election can be held in this county.

Dr. Todd, the Greenback candidate for Congress from the second California district, died last Saturday.

Fine Weather Everywhere.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2. Advice this morning indicate fine weather in all sections of the country, and every prospect favors a large vote.

Latest from San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2-P. M. Total vote of the city at 1:30 is 29,751. Everything is progressing quietly. The Greenbackers are very active. Both Davis and Rosencrans are being considerably scratched.

New England.

BOSTON, Nov. 2-P. M. The Concord reports are to the effect that the Republicans were ahead at one o'clock. Lisbon shows a Democratic gain of seventy in the vote for Moderators, and New Market a gain of sixteen for them in the same vote. No reports of disorder at the polls have been received from any part of New England.

Republicans Ahead in Maine.

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 2. The returns from all the wards show a Republican majority of 1,823; Fusionists, 1,391; a larger vote than in September.

Garfield on the Prospects.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. To-day's Herald Cleveland special reports an interview with Garfield on the prospects, last evening, who said: "In a few short hours we will know all. New York is the X Y Z—the unknown quantity—in this problem, and we cannot tell what the solution will be."

Quiet in Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 2. The election is proceeding in the most quiet and orderly manner. A heavy vote is being polled. Up to 1 P. M. only four arrests had been made.

Heavy Vote in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2. Election progressing quietly, but a heavy vote is being polled. At ten A. M. 17,000 ballots had been cast.

New York.

TROY, N. Y., Nov. 2-P. M. Several arrests have been made for illegal voting. The total votes at noon were 6,950; increase in Republican wards, 103; decrease in Democratic wards, 892. The police arrested a number of U. S. Marshals.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2-P. M.

The vote is the largest ever polled in the State. All voters are working hard. The polls close at four o'clock.

Latest from Virginia City.

VIRGINIA, Nov. 2-P. M. Democratic legislative ticket ahead, but Garfield gets a big majority.

Garfield Ahead in Carson.

CARSON, Nov. 2-P. M. Garfield 130 ahead. Coffin and Morris badly scratched. Italians Republican.

A Possible War With China.

LONDON, Nov. 2. A dispatch from Berlin says that ten thousand troops are concentrated in view of a possible war with China. The powers have not agreed upon anything in regard to the withdrawal of the fleet.

The Walking Match.

LONDON, Nov. 2. In the pedestrian contest the scores this morning were: Rowell 186 miles, Littlewood 152, Dobler 177, Howard 135, Pegram 88.

At three o'clock Rowell had 210 miles, Littlewood 172, Dobler 201, Howard 160.

It has been decided to hold the International Regatta on the Thames.

Irish Land Troubles.

DUBLIN, Nov. 2.—A collision occurred between the police and people at Headford, near Tuam, county Galway, originating in an attempt to remove some drunkards, and it is reported that many were seriously injured on both sides.

The house of a priest who is opposed to the Land League was sacked at Limerick.

It is rumored that Dillon has been arrested.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The following was issued by the President of the United States of America:

[Proclamation.]—At no period in their history since the United States became a nation has this people had so abundant and so universal reasons for joy and gratitude at the favor of Almighty God, or been subject to so profound an obligation to give thanks for His loving kindness, and humbly to implore His continued care and protection. The health, wealth and prosperity throughout all our borders; peace, honor and friendship with all the world; firm and faithful adherence by the great body of our population to the principles of liberty and justice, which have made our greatness as a nation; our wise institutions and strong frame of Government society which will perpetuate it—for all these let the thanks of a happy and united people, as with one voice, ascend in devout homage to the Giver of all good. I therefore recommend that on Thursday, the 25th day of November next, the people meet in their respective places of worship to make acknowledgment to Almighty God for His bounties and His protection, and to offer to him prayers for their continuance.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this first day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and fifth. [Seal.] R. B. HAYES.

Forging a Postal Order.

PORTLAND, Nov. 2. A man named A. A. White was arrested at the Dalles last Saturday, on a complaint of United States Postal Agent Simpson, and charged with forgery. White, it is alleged, counterfeited and passed a postal order of the 7th of last August, at the Dalles. The order came from Fresno, Cal., and was sent July 30, 1880, by William D. Fox to Mattie M. Fox. White is now in jail here awaiting trial.

NEVADA.

EUREKA, Nov. 3, P. M. In this county Garfield will probably have a small majority. Cassidy (Dem.) for Congress has 400 majority. The Democratic Legislative ticket is elected.

White Pine gives 200 majority for Cassidy and elects the Democratic Legislative ticket.

PIECHE, Nov. 3, P. M.

White Pine gives 200 majority for Cassidy and elects the Democratic Legislative ticket.

CALIFORNIA.

Republicans Ahead.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.

Returns from 302 towns and precincts in this State give a Republican majority of 890.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.

Returns do not materially change the situation regarding the Congressional election in the interior districts of the State. Calaveras will give about 25 Democratic majority, but Page will have 40. Bodie and Bridgeport give together about 90 Republican majority and 200 for Pacheco over Leach. In Mariposa Hancock has 188 majority and Leach 195 majority. Ventura gives Garfield 94 majority, Pacheco 84; Eureka, Humboldt county, gives Garfield 320 majority, Knight 140 majority.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—P. M.

Advices at present indicate that the Democrats will have a working majority on the Legislative ticket, though the figures are liable to be changed. Bridgeport, Mono county, gives Garfield 103, Hancock 137; Quincy gives Garfield 134, Hancock 121; Placerville gives Garfield 316, Hancock 274. Some anxiety is yet felt for Davis in the Second District, but Democrats concede his election. Farwell, in the Third District, runs ahead of the ticket in Lake county, where he resides. In Lake county, three towns to hear from, Garfield's majority is 1,175, and Farwell's majority is 1,246.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.

The latest returns for Congressmen give Page 8,927, Glascock 7,993, Knight 8,188, Berry 8,687, Pacheco 8,147, Leach 8,040, and Godfrey 1,778. Santa Barbara county's complete returns give Garfield 255 majority. Mariposa gives Hancock 60 majority.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3, 2:30 P. M.

The latest returns from the city election give Garfield 14,093; Hancock 14,784; Davis 14,307; Rosencranz 14,578.

NEW YORK.

Estimate of the Republican Majority.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. The Times puts the Republican majority in this State at 25,000; the Tribune 40,000, and the World at from 10,000 to 15,000. The two former papers claim a Republican majority in Congress, while the World (Dem.) asserts that the next House will certainly be Democratic by a small majority.

The Majority in the City.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.

This city gives a Democratic majority of 38,000, fully twenty-five per cent. less than the usual Democratic majority.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.

The majority for Hancock in this city is about 42,000. The State Legislature is strongly Republican. Grace (Dem.), is elected Mayor of the city.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—P. M.

The city elects to the Assembly 18 Democrats and 6 Republicans. Late returns show vote on Mayorality as follows: Grace (Dem.), 98,051; Dowd (Rep.), 96,748; Grace's majority, 1,305. Forty-five election districts missing. The vote for Register stands Docharty (Dem.), 101,244; Hess (Rep.), 93,524; Docharty's majority, 7,720. Fifteen election districts missing. It was expected that the Republicans might capture these two offices. Rejoicing Republicans paraded the village of Flushing early this morning. They were assaulted by Democrats with sticks and stones. The attacking party was routed, one of them being fatally and several seriously injured. A number of Republicans wounded.

OREGON.

Heavy Rains and a Light Vote.

PORTLAND, Nov. 3. Heavy rains in Oregon made a light vote. The Republicans estimate their majority as 500, based on fragmentary returns.

NEW JERSEY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. The New Jersey Legislature is Republican. The Republicans gain a Senator from that State.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.

New Jersey is claimed by both parties. The Legislature will be Republican on joint ballot. Connecticut gives about 3,000 Republican majority.

ILLINOIS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—P. M.

Returns from 333 towns and precincts in Illinois, outside of Chicago, give a net Republican gain of 3,027. This indicates that Garfield's plurality in the State will be about 45,000. Nothing definite has yet been received from close Congressional districts.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 3.

South Carolina gives Hancock a majority of 34,000.

RHODE ISLAND.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 3.

This city goes Republican by a majority of over 2,000.

CONNECTICUT.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.

Connecticut gives a sure Republican majority.

MASSACHUSETTS.

BOSTON, Nov. 3.

The Republican majority in this State is estimated at 50,000.

FOREIGN.

GENERAL RESULTS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3. The latest returns indicate a Solid South and a Solid North, except New Jersey and the Pacific Coast States. California and Oregon are doubtful. Nevada is Democratic according to the latest returns. In the next Congress the Republicans 19 in the House and four in the Senate.

A Curious Candelaria Custom.

The Candelaria True Fissure says: A great many women in this part of the country wear spiders in their stockings, for luck as they say, believing that the presence of these little reptiles in the position indicated will cause the Goddess of Chance to be propitious. One evening not long ago a woman put a young tarantula in her stocking, thinking it was of the harmless kind. The next morning she could not get her stocking on. She now vows that she would rather be unlucky all the rest of her life than run such a risk again. The swelling was only temporary and there were no serious consequences.

For diarrhea, dysentery, bloody-flux, cramps in stomach, colic, whether affecting adults, children or infants, Dr. Pierce's Compound Extract of Smart-Weed is a sovereign remedy. It is compounded from the best brandy, Jamaica ginger, smart-weed, or water, pepper, anodyne, soothing and healing gums. For colds, rheumatism, neuralgic affections and to break up fevers and inflammatory attacks, it is invaluable and should be kept in every household. Fifty cents by druggists.

Arrested for Bribery.

Amos Alt was arrested Tuesday on a charge of attempted bribery of a voter. Walker L. Baird lodged the complaint, alleging that Alt had offered him fifteen dollars to vote the Democratic ticket. Alt gave bonds in the sum of $1,000 and was discharged.

The law makes the bribery or intimidation of a voter a felony. The penalty is a fine of $1,000 or imprisonment for five years.

A Curious Liquor Law.

Over in Redding, according to the Independent, they have a stringent liquor law, and it is necessary to get a written order from a druggist in order to procure a drink. The following is given as a sample order: "Let Johnnie have one-half glass of whiskey. Charge to him." MARTIN.

A Good Appointment.

John W. Maddrell, foreman and associate editor of the Reno Journal, has been appointed State Printer. Mr. Maddrell is in every way competent, and deserving of the appointment. The place is worth $200 a month and is secured to him for two years. Mr. Maddrell has the congratulations of everyone connected with the GAZETTE.

Small Pox.

Martin, the brakeman, who was recently ill with varioloid, and removed to the County Hospital, died yesterday morning.

WASHOE COUNTY.

Full Returns From All Important Precincts.

The following are the full returns of Tuesday's election from all the voting precincts in this county, with the exception of Duck Lake and Salt Marsh, which together have only some twenty votes. The figures have been collected with all possible care from all sources, but are not official. They will be found, if not absolutely accurate, to approximate closely the correct returns.

RENO PRECINCT.

The Result.

The above figures give majorities as follows, which will scarcely be affected by the two small precincts yet to hear from:
For Hancock 76, Belknap 79, Cassidy 40, Schooling 286, Walker 205, Osburn 250, Flanagan 207, Frey 74, Lodge 282, Williams 299, Boyd 116, Rankin 74, Skinner 20, Bowen 34, Dickens 6, Avery 128, Young, 151. The following are at the head of the Assembly ticket, the vote standing as follows: Berry 895, Bailey 854, Lewers 800. The Democrats have elected the whole Legislative and county ticket, with the exception of treasurer.

Not a Case of Robbery.

J. N. Barstow informs the GAZETTE that the money, and the certificate of deposit for $200, which Park Sherman of Reno lost at Washoe city, were found by Master Willie Noyes in a woodpile, against which Mr. Sherman's nose probably came to grief. The money and the certificate were returned by Mr. Barstow to the owner. The finder was generously rewarded by Mr. Sherman.

Killed by the Cars.

Three tramps got on a freight train Sunday somewhere east of Wadsworth. The train men put them off several times, the tramps saying they were bound to go to Wadsworth. While the train was doubling the Goose Neck, a heavy grade a few miles east of Wadsworth, one of the tramps, a young man about twenty years old, fell from the cars and was run over and killed.

Roll of Honor in North Truckee school for the month ending Oct. 29:

Fannie Johnson, 95; Bessie Gault, 99; Josie Gault, 96; Emma Ross, 96; Charlie Bryant, 97; Johnnie Gault, 94; Jimmie Gault, 95; Joseph Lakin, 94; Charlie Ross, 99; Elwood Jaquish, 90; Neither absent nor tardy, Charlie Bryant.
MINNIE B. GIBBS, Teacher.

Business Leaving the County.

The Carson & Colorado railroad will injure Wadsworth considerably. The big teams will have to go elsewhere for business, and the blacksmith, wagon and harness shops will follow them. Mr. Walker will move his blacksmith shop to Walker Lake.

JOTTINGS.

—Tuscarora is assessed 15 cents.
—“Beecher” will please bring back the GAZETTE sign.
—Standard has declared a dividend of 75 cents.
—Barney Fitzgerald is at work in the tailor shop of the State prison.
—Taxes will be delinquent after Nov. 15.
—George W. Mershon is about to remove to California.

—The current joke last night was that Washoe county had gone Italian.
—District Court reopened this morning. The Lake case is again on trial.
—Some Reno Democrats admit the Morey letter is a forgery, but say that “a lie well stuck to is as good as the truth.”

—Those who bet on the election are beginning to settle. Hats and suits of clothes are in demand at the White House in satisfaction of bets.
—The sewing machine raffle that was to take place this evening is postponed on account of election excitement until the 13th, at the City Hotel.

—A good many hats have been bet in Reno on the election. The White House has laid in a large stock to supply the unusual demand this week.
—The artesian well that C. A. Lee is sinking at Franktown is down forty feet, and has encountered rock. It will be bored deeper.

—The Mechanics' Store is growing in popularity. Mr. Peyser has a large list of friends in the country, and is adding to it all who get acquainted with him here.
—J. C. Hagerman has a fine pair of platform scales in his new store. The platform is level with the floor, so that heavy goods can be wheeled directly on it. The scales will weigh as high as 3,700 pounds.

—The tramp who was killed by the cars near Wadsworth on Sunday night, had the head and bust of a woman marked in India ink on his right forearm. The Coroner's jury gave a verdict of accidental death, and the body was brought to Reno for burial.
—Sol Levy has got in a splendid stock of dry goods for the fall and winter. Every department of his establishment is completely furnished. His late purchases embrace a great variety of beautiful novelties. His prices are moderate and the quality of his goods excellent.

Shooting Affray in Virginia.

About 5 o'clock Sunday morning, says the Virginia Chronicle, two men had a quarrel in the Delta, and Eugene Markey, the athlete, interfered to prevent trouble. Markey had been attacked by Dick Prentice some hours previous, but had held him until he was willing to quit. Prentice drank considerable after that, and when Markey interfered in the quarrel going on in the saloon, Prentice pulled his pistol and started for him, saying: “You big fighter, what do you want to meddle for?” Markey kicked the pistol out of his hand, and in the struggle for its possession succeeded in getting hold of it. He shot Prentice in the fleshy part of the left arm, and pulled again, but the weapon failed to go off, and he struck Prentice over the head with it, knocking him down and cutting him badly. Prentice was taken to the Sheriff's office, where his wounds, which are not dangerous, were dressed.
Markey was arrested for assault to kill, and was held in $1,000 bonds by Justice Moses to answer before the Grand Jury.

Political Demonstration.

Reno was ablaze with enthusiasm and patriotic fire Tuesday evening. The Republicans turned out in mass. Their torchlight procession made an imposing display, and they had imported something in the shape of a cannon from Wadsworth that made a terrific boom. Bonfires lit up the vicinity of the Pavilion and Theater. J. L. McFarlin and J. K. Everett had their places of business finely illuminated in honor of the Republican procession. The Republicans finally gathered in the Pavilion and the Democrats in the Theater. The Republican speakers had by far the largest audience. Their meeting was addressed by H. L. Fish, as chairman, and by Messrs. Boardman, Cain, Dawson and Bell. The Democrats were addressed by a number of local speakers. While the meetings were going on, the streets and saloons were full of men. Hundreds of people from the country were in town. Towards eleven o'clock the town settled down to its usual condition of quiet.

Angora Goats.

The Battle Mountain Messenger states that C. P. Bailey, of San Jose, is shipping 500 head of Angora goats to Colorado. He sold 800 head from his Mill Creek ranch to parties in Wyoming Territory last spring and they are doing so well that it has opened out a new industry in that part of the country. E. L. Bailey, who has charge of the Mill Creek ranch, brought in some Angora bucks to be sent with the shipment from San Jose. They will be put in with the first shipment when it passes through Battle Mountain on their way east.

A Love Feast.

For several days parties were out notifying certain Democrats to be at the Saturday evening meeting of the Hancock Club, as there was particular business to be done. When the doors were opened, two men guarded it to see that only the proper persons went in. After about forty had been admitted the meeting was opened. No attention was paid to the GAZETTE's phonograph, which stood in a corner taking down every word. Hon. L. J. Flint presided and Hon. J. C. Hagerman was principal spokesman. He opened his remarks by saying that the gentlemen present represented the flower of the Democratic party (north) and that they had been selected by the Central Committee as workers on election day. He said that the Committee was embarrassed financially, but that they could pay five dollars to each man for his services. This proposition seemed to fall flat. It did not arouse the enthusiasm that was expected. The chairman and spokesman then held a whispered consultation with the Hon. L. P. Drexler, who sat over in the corner near the phonograph. The announcement was then made that an additional five dollars would be paid in case the Legislative ticket was successful. All who were willing to work were requested to say so. Some said they did not want pay; others said they were willing to work for nothing and give five dollars besides. Mr. Cooke moved that the roll be called and each respond if he was willing to work for the Democratic ticket on the above conditions. When George Hutten's name was called he said “no.” After some sparring the meeting adjourned amid much disgust at such an offer.
